Week Set Aside To Celebrate Annual Church Unity Octave

New Deal Commerce Club Studies Spending

At a meeting of the Commerce Club last night (Tuesday), members participated in an open discussion concerning a prominent government policy of current interest. The topic under discussion was the "Pump Priming Theory of Government Spending."

Beginning with a round-table forum by the committee under Paul Brunton, chairman, the rest of the members followed with their opinions and observations concerning the topic at hand.

Discuss Giving Keys

As the business of the meeting, the members discussed plans for keys to be given to members who have been in the club for a certain length of time, and for those members who will be called into the armed forces.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Monday evening, was postponed until last night.

Geology Classes Make Trip To Field Museum

Since the conclusion of the Christmas holidays, weekly Sunday trips, under the supervision of the Rev. Carl Neiset, C. P.P.S., have been made to the Field Museum in Chicago by students in the Mineralogy and Geology classes.

Having room in his automobile for only five students, Father Neiset has been compelled to extend his survey to approximately two months in order that all may have an equal opportunity to view the various minerals. To date two trips have been made.

Science Majors Concerned

Students primarily concerned are those in the Mineralogy, Petrology, and Paleontology classes and majors in Geology and Economic Geology.

On hand at the museum are millions and millions of dollars worth of specimens which the students may observe and study. Father Neiset has been given access to many of the private laboratories which he may use for purposes of study and illustration.

Seven Seniors Write Theses For Mid-Semester Graduation

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to—well, if he is a senior in college—to finishing his thesis and making final plans for graduation.

There are, however, a few seniors on the campus who, because of the present crisis, seem to have other ideas about waiting for spring to roll around the corner. These industrious young men have been working on their theses since early fall, writing and revising in the hope of having their work approved for graduation at the end of the present semester.

Seven Write Theses

There are seven such seniors who have indicated that they are candidates for degrees, according to word received from the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dean of Studies.

Of this number, four are in the economics department, two in Chemistry, and one in Accounting.

The candidates, together with their degrees and major professors, are as follows: Economics—Joseph C. Crance, B.S. in Business Administration. Warren T. Gray, A. B., and Charles R. Hoshaw, B. S. in Business Administration, with the Rev. Frederick Fehrenbacher, C.P.P.S., major professor; and William T. Shine, A.B., with the Rev. Joseph Kenkel, C.P.P.S., major professor; Chemistry—William J. Browning, B. S., and Charles Klapheke, B.S., with the Rev. Albert Wuest, C.P.P.S., major professor; Accounting—John Wood, A. B., with the Rev. Francis Hehn, C.P.P.S., major professor.

All of the theses have not as yet been submitted for approval.

Triduum Starts Jan. 26 For Soldiers, Sailors

Plan Celebration For Press Month During February

Sometime toward the middle of the month of February, the campus will mark its annual observance of National Catholic Press Month. Planning for that date, the Sanguinist Club last week began to work out tentative programs.

In former years, an exhibit of books, newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets constituted the main portion of the week set aside to honor Catholic journalism. This year, however, the Sanguinists hope to lend a novel twist to the celebration.

A suggestion already made to the Sanguinists would limit the observance to a day instead of the customary week-long display. While the exhibit of Catholic literature might very well form a part of the program, the Sanguinists hope to stage a program in the College Theatre dedicated to the Catholic Press.

Father Gilbert Esser Wins Major Promotion

Back at his post at Camp Blanding, Fla., Chaplain Gilbert Esser, C.P.P.S., Captain in the U.S. Army, found himself doffing the twin silver bars for a gold oak leaf. The War Department, in his absence, had promoted him to the rank of Major.

Father Esser, former professor at St. Joseph's, visited the campus a week ago. At that time he addressed an assembly of all the students in the College Theatre.

Curtain Club To Give Geo. S. Kaufman Play

George S. Kaufman's comedy, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," will be presented in the College Theatre Sunday, Jan. 24, as part of a private program staged by members of the Curtain Club, Community Students' dramatic society.

Heading the entertainment committee in charge of presenting the play is Ralph Bushell, senior religious student.

The play will begin immediately after the regular business meeting is concluded. This presentation is one of many which the Curtain Club has staged in private programs in addition to their annual public appearances.

Literary Society Meets

At their regular meeting last Sun., the members of the C.L.S. discussed possible plays to be produced next semester. The plan of presenting keys also was discussed at the meeting.

CONDOLENCE

In the name of the faculty and students of St. Joseph's, STUFF extends sympathy to the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., upon the death of his father. Father Koch is director of the College Glee Club and Choir.

Washington Official Says Reserves Will Not Report At Once

The V. Rev. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president of St. Joseph's, early this week made public part of a communication he received from the National Council of Church-Related Colleges, Washington, D.C.

Signed by Gould Wickey, general secretary of the Council, the release had to do with the position of college students in the present crisis, with particular emphasis on the Army-Navy college program. The statement follows.

College Program Not Ready

"Information from several sources indicates that the Army-Navy College Program will not be released for several weeks, and that the calling of students will be on a staggered plan, thereby permitting probably most students to complete the academic year.

"You can urge students to enroll for the second semester, and to stay in college until called. Adjustments in tuition and credits, if necessary, can be made later."

Student Council Meets For Yearbook Picture

With several important tasks to accomplish, the Student Council held its first meeting of the current semester on Monday, Jan. 11.

At this meeting Pete Varini, senior class representative, was elected to head the council as president, while Stan Lapsys, also of the senior class, was chosen to fill the post of councilman-at-large. The meeting was concluded with the council posing for the Phase photographer.

Members who attended the meeting were Varini and William Shine, seniors; Thomas Scollard and Jiggs Huysman juniors; Gil Hodges, and James Shields, sophomores; and Robert Steinman, freshman. The other freshman representative, Marty Hoban, has withdrawn from school. As yet there has been no appointment to fill the vacancy.

Sanguinist Club Sponsors Special Noon-Day Prayer

It was decided at the last meeting of the Sanguinist Club For Catholic Action that the club would sponsor a Triduum—three days of special prayer—for all former students and faculty members now in the armed services and for all those who will soon be leaving. It will be held on Jan. 26, 27, and 28.

The Triduum will consist of daily attendance at Mass, reception of Holy Communion, and a short noon service beginning at 12:50, at which time private Benediction will be held and special prayers said. The noon service will close with a hymn to the Blessed Mother for men in the service.

Prayers To Be Distributed

Copies of the hymn to be sung and of the prayers to be recited will be distributed before each service and collected afterwards.

The Very Rev. President of the college, Aloys Dirksen, C.P.P.S., has wholeheartedly endorsed the Triduum and urges every student to participate in the three days of prayer.

Postpone Second Talk By Father C. Dirksen

Because of coming semester examinations the Sanguinist Club For Catholic Action has postponed its next regular meeting until the second Monday of Feb., Feb. 8. At this meeting the Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., will deliver the second in a series of talks on the Popes' Social Encyclicals, entitled "The Nature of The Social Man."

New Farm Hand

Added to the personnel of the College Farms recently was Mr. Bud Aumen, of Hanover, Penna. Aumen arrived in time to get ready for the spring plowing and to help repair farm implements for the coming summer.

Sing For Student Audience

The

DRIFT

(Editorial)

Just twenty days from the close of the first semester, the Student Council stirred sufficiently from its self-imposed lethargy to hold its first meeting. After the officers of the Council were named, a portrait was taken for the yearbook. Phasc. One cannot help but wonder if the only available reason for electing officers was to determine who would sit where in the picture.

Perhaps the challenge is unfair. But all appearances lend support to a strong suspicion that the Student Council exists in name only. Its only purpose seems to be the personal edification of eight or nine students. Why in the world the classes waste valuable time electing members to a Council which refuses to function is one of these mysteries which often accompany any undertaking built along democratic principles.

It was not the original purpose—nor has it ever been the purpose—of the Student Council to act as an authoritative body. The position of the Council has always been clearly defined: As an advisory student group, founded to communicate student thought to the college officials. The charge has been brought time after time that the Council is a farce, that its actions are weaker than the weakest words. Still, a review of the work of the Council will demonstrate that it has served a very definite purpose in the past, even though that work was not flaunted with a great deal of publicity.

Two years ago, the Council made its application for membership in the National Federation of Catholic College Students. After the application was made, the Council did, for a time, endeavor to cooperate with the Federation insofar as possible. Last year the Council held regular monthly meetings at which either the Dean of Students or the President of St. Joseph's attended. Many of the suggestions made at those meetings have since materialized.

It is a thought often bandied about by campus wags that many students do not even know who represents their class Council. This would be a good time for every student to find out. And after he finds out he might ask his representative why all the sham. If the present Student Council does not intend to act in the limited capacity given it to act, it might at least have the dignity to resign.

No one is expecting stupendous accomplishments from the Student Council. But more than one student is wondering about the turn of things. At least everyone has the right to expect more of their Student Council than that they dress up for their first, and only, meeting, then climax it all by doing nothing more than having their picture taken.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

BEFORE LONG there is going to be a shortage of new pictures coming from the light and tinsel capital. One of the main reasons for the approaching shortage is an order from the WPB giving the flicker-makers less of the vital materials they need—notably film to record their scenes.

Not the least of the reasons, of course is the acute shortage of actors and actresses in Hollywood. Male leads of the Gable-Taylor type, are almost impossible to find nowadays. Feminine leads, too, have suffered from the war until the movie moguls called up some of the oldesters like Lillian Helman to fill the ranks.

Meantime, theatres all over the country—Rensselaer included—are feeling the pinch. Bookings are harder to make. Some managers are already staging "revival" shows of the hits of yesterday. But that can't go on forever.

Now for the reviews.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

Lloyd Nolan, Carole Landis, and Jimmy Gleason are together in a feature about the fall of Bataan, called "Manilla Calling." This is the story of eighteen men and a girl who fought off the Jap invaders for as long as they were able. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

"The Palm Beach

Story" is the sad tale of a beautiful gal who decides to divorce her husband so that she will be able to obtain financial assistance for hubby's business. The story is so old that it walks on crutches. Claudette Colbert, Joel McCrea, Mary Astor, and Rudy Vallee head the cast. Legion Rating: B.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Here's that guy again. Mickey Rooney is back with all the folks in another Hardy saga, "Andy Hardy's Double Life." Thrown in for good measure this time is Esther Williams, swimming star. The Hardy pictures have lately taken the turn of the soap operas—see one and you've seen them all. Legion Rating: Unavailable.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

Jon Hall, Ilona Massey, and Peter Lorre are starred in "Invisible Agent," another of the long line of women-who-spy-during-war pictures. Legion Rating: Unavailable.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Ed Adent decides to come at 9:05 instead of 8:30 to his first class. He still believes in "sleep-late" saving time. Fred Sieben got the smoking room mixed with the powder room in Lunghi's last Wednesday. . . . In the refectory Paul Brunton learned a new word called "Camadererie." Paul, how about putting it into practice down there? Shorty Roteck hasn't shaved for two weeks. He wants to prove once and for all the evolution theory. . . . John Jeske has been caught powdering his face with Lady Esther. Frank Susoreny has taken more interest now in permanent waves than in radio waves. . . . Ed Ritter's first second, and third nature is Accounting. His fourth nature is any party given by his roommate. . . . Songs: "Mr. Five by Five"—Davey; "Dark Eyes"—Huenefeld. The most popular man on the campus for a moment was Big John Beall. His name was raised by over a hundred starving lads just because he had a whole custard pie. Father Koller soon quieted things, but not until John had sold the pie to the highest bidder. . . . If any of you wish to invest a few nickles, just see any man in the army reserve. He will take any bet as to who will be called into the army first and will most probably lay odds on himself. . . . Question of the week. What was that peculiar smell assailing the nostrils in the south wing of Drexel Hall? . . . You have heard of the great things that each boy brags about in regard to his home town or state. You have heard Hoffman brag about Ky.; Callahan about the Gary steel mills; P. P. Keehner about Ohio; Morrison about Youngstown; Bob Shields about Chicago; Browning about Evansville; but have you heard the latest things Mops O'Donnell has to say about Peoria, Illinois? He said that the whiskey made in Peoria is the strongest and best in the world. The reason he said this was that when Seagrams distillery burned down, the whiskey ran into the river and made all the fish within twenty miles of Peoria so drunk that they jumped out of the water to cure their hickups with a breath of fresh air. . . .

Students Discuss Setup Of Intra-Mural Program

By Vincent Giese

St. Joseph's intra-mural program is now in full swing. With almost all of the students participating in some phase of intra-mural activity, STUFF decided that this week would be an opportune time to find out what the students think of the intra-mural setup.

Though the answers we received varied, essentially they can be boiled down to a lack of cooperation between the students, the organizers, and the officials. There were complaints on all sides.

With the interest of the physical fitness program in mind, we hope that all plausible suggestions for a more efficient setup made through this column will be taken to heart by those whom the shoe fits. We tried to interview those who are closely connected with the intra-murals, for we believe that they understand the situation the best.

Thomas Joyce, junior from Bureau, Ill., says this: "On the whole the intra-mural program has not been fully satisfactory. There is a definite lack of cooperation between the students and those in charge which must be eradicated. Moreover, there must be a definite distinction between the program of the high school and the college. A lack of this delineation has already caused much confusion."

Here are the words of James Welter, freshman from Tiffin, Ohio: "Before the intra-mural program was organized many of the fellows were complaining because there weren't any intra-murals. Now that the program has been worked out the students aren't giving full cooperation. Father Roof should receive a lot of credit for the efficient organization of the bowling league."

Louie Yugovich, senior from Keewatin, Min., has this to say: "As far as the basketball is concerned, I think the intra-mural program is very successful and I hope it continues to be. The only thing that needs a little improvement is the officiating. Also, a few more lights could be added. How about a little more cooperation in the volleyball and calisthenics classes?"

Dan Reinman, sophomore from Leipsic, Ohio, lists a few suggestions with these words: "The intra-mural

Senior Sketches

By Tom Scheiber

One of the few January grads of St. Joseph's senior class is William Thomas Shine of Chicago Heights, Ill.; Shine was born there October 23, 1921.

Bill attended Bloom Township school for two years and concluded his high school days with two years at Mount Carmel. In high school he went out for track, wrestling, and golf, playing four years on the golf team.

At St. Joe, Luke, as he is popularly called, won three letters as pitcher and outfielder on the varsity baseball team; he was on the boxing squad for one year, golf team for three, and participated in all intra-mural sports.

Concerning campus activities, Bill is on the student council this year, a member of the Commerce Club for one year, and a three-year man in both the Raleigh and Monogram Clubs.

As he will be graduated soon, Luke is hard at work on his theses; he is taking the business-administration course, majoring in economics and minoring in education and English. He will receive an A.B. degree in Commerce and English. . . .

Enrolled in the Naval Reserve V-7 program, Bill hopes to be called for training to Northwestern University. Three years as lifeguard at County Lake in Chicago will be to his advantage in the Navy. Whether he will remain in the service after the war or go into business is still an uncertainty with Bill.

VALPARAISO NEXT BASKETBALL FOE

Puma Prints
By John Feicht

Proof of that old saying, "A team is as strong as its reserve strength," was evident last Wednesday in the Great Lakes-St. Joe game. The Pumas have a good outfit, but the Sailors had several good, in fact very good, combinations. The Navy had just too much manpower for the Cardinal and Purple. Lt. Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle did a pretty nifty job of shifting his fleet of fast moving destroyers. The scoring of the Sailors was evenly divided, which further goes to show the strength of the club.

Goals were being scored so fast in the closing moments of the game at Ft. Wayne that even the Chicago Sun mentions the fact. I guess that we on the campus were not the only ones that had trouble getting the correct final score of the contest.

It seems as though the Valpo team should be called the Skyscrapers instead of the Crusaders. There are very few teams in the country that are combined of men reaching so far up in the stratosphere.

Speed will be the keynote of the St. Joe basketballers now that Mike Sokol and Dick Krouse are in the starting combine. Bernie Hoffman should work well with these freshies as he seems to play his best ball when going at top speed.

Mauri Gutsell was picked on an all-star club at the Lincoln Air Base, Lincoln, Nebraska. The former Puma captain was going in rare form until his playing was interrupted by night classes.

Bud Bowman, a former St. Joe basketball and track star, now a corporal in the Army, returned to the old home town, Rensselaer, to be married last Saturday morning in St. Augustine's Catholic Church.

From the looks of things boxing will be dropped at St. Joe this year. This as yet is not a certainty, but lack of pugilistic material, and loss of the coach point in that direction.

As the I-M bowlers get ready for the final matches of the semester, the league standing shows that it is going to be a fight to the finish. At present the league is scheduled to disband at the close of the first half year, but if enough men show interest in the organization a new league may be started.

Blackout basketball had a thorough test in the intra-murals. It is surprising what goes on under the basket at the dark end of the gym. I know.

Great Lakes Five Trims SJC 60-32 In Third Meet

Great Lakes' high-powered basketball team crushed a fighting but outclassed Puma quintet 60-32 last Wednesday night. The contest was played for the Naval Relief fund in the North Side high school gym at Ft. Wayne.

In defeating St. Joe, Coach Paul (Tony) Hinkle's aggregation just about scored their average number of points per game this season. They held a lead of 25-14 at halftime, but the Deinhartmen pulled within six points at 31-25 shortly after the second half began.

Capt. Bernie Hoffman led all scorers with three field goals and six charity shots. Wilbur Schumacher and Forest Anderson, former Butler and Stanford stars respectively, hit the nets for 11 and 8 points to pace the Bluejacket bucket brigade.

Intra-Mural Basketball Scoring Record Made

Dunn and Horst are the leaders in the Seifert hall league, each of them possessing unblemished records. Wigmore with four victories in the same number of starts leads the Noll cagers. Reichert's and Shields' three victories and no defeats are tops in the Drexel and Gaspar league.

A new team-scoring mark appeared last week as Dunn's aggregation crushed Bullock's group to the tune of 85-22. In that contest the individual scoring mark was also broken as Jack Welsh collected fifteen baskets for thirty points.

Pukelis Takes Beall Twice To Lead I-M Bowling League

When the bowling team captained by Stan Pukelis won two games from Beall's squad Saturday, they established themselves in first place. Kremp's double win over the Feicht outfit kept that team on the winning trail, but a split Sunday with Hemmert dropped Don's quintet behind the leaders.

Ray Hemmert led his team to a 752 game Sunday in the match with Kremp, giving that outfit the high team game of the unfinished season.

High individual games of the week were scored by Johnny Feicht with a 204 and Hugh Davey's 194. Individual averages will again be printed when the league completes its schedule.

The league will complete its operations this week. The Pukelis club has to meet Jack Caron's team and the Feicht five. To remain in the fight for the leadership the Kremps have to dispose of Paul Birkmeier's bowlers.

Captain Bernie Hoffman Leads St. Joe Hardwood Offensive

Blazing along in the same fashion as in former years is Capt. Bernie Hoffman, high scorer of the St. Joe basketball squad. To date this year, this five-foot-eleven-inch star forward has tallied seventy-nine points in six games against more than tough opposition.

Last year, with 354 points in twenty-five games, he led all Cardinal and Purple scorers by a comfortable margin. Against Valparaiso in the final game of the season he set a new St. Joe individual scoring record (he had previously equalled the old one) by scoring thirty-six points as the Pumas drubbed the Crusaders 82-58.

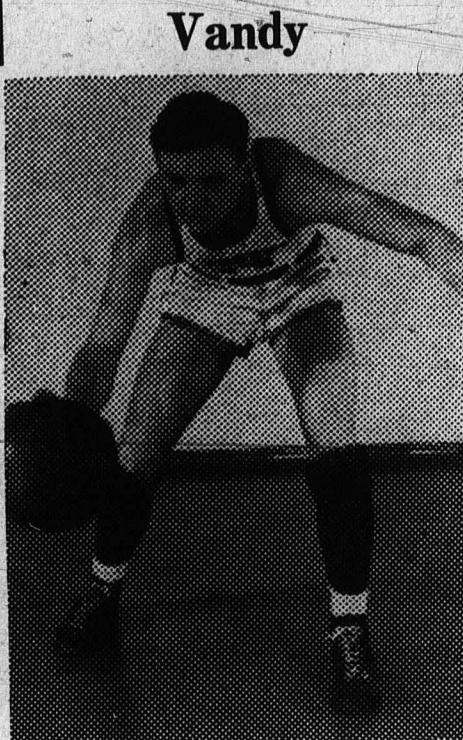

Started At Jasper
Bernie played his high school basketball at the public high school of Jasper, Indiana, a town which is very basketball minded and player producing. While there he amassed 580 points. To further illustrate his basketball playing ability, he was elected captain by his teammates in his junior and senior years. In his senior year he led his co-players through a season of twenty-three victories and five defeats. This included a sectional tournament victory over Huntington, at that time, with only one defeat, heavy choice for the state crown.

Good Ball Handler
Bernie hasn't won fame only on his scoring laurels. He is regarded as a smooth ball handler and a very valuable floorman. Besides that he ably fills the post of captain of the team.

Having been in the starting lineup for the past three years, he naturally has seen much service. Of all the games he has played for St. Joe he regards the Xavier game of his freshman year the one which he most enjoyed.

Buckin' Bronc Break Mare For Duty Before College Plow

Wild-west cowboys have nothing on Brother William Loehr, C.P.P.S., manager of the College Farms, when it comes to breaking in unruly colts. Bonnie—a three-year-old mare—was brought in from her pasture Monday to begin the process of getting used to the harness. By the time spring arrives, Bonnie should be ready to take her place beside one of the older horses as part of a team.

But Brother Bill wasn't the only one having trouble with Bonnie. An older, gentler, and quieter nag—veteran of the farms—had to work side by side with the new mare in the harness as part of the new colt's training period.

Crusaders Host To Puma Quintet There Tonight

With a record of four victories and two defeats, the Puma cagers will be out to kill a giant when they tangle with the Valparaiso Crusaders tonight (Wednesday) at Valparaiso.

Coach Loren E. Ellis' starting line-up averages six feet, five. The two tallest of these skyscrapers are center Don and guard Wallace Warnko. These junior brothers stand six feet, ten inches.

At the two forward positions will be Ted Bean, six-foot-two sophomore, and Steve Gaze, six-foot-one sophomore. The other guard is Freshman Ted Szikora who stands six feet two.

Have Seven Victories
The Crusaders to date have seven victories in eleven starts. Their winning chances have recently been weakened by the loss of three other cagers, all over the six-foot mark.

It is uncertain as to whom Coach Deinhart will start for the Pumas. Capt. Bernie Hoffman will be one of the forwards and Don Schrenk one of the guards. Gil Hodges appears to be slated for the center position. Mike Sokol may receive the nod for the other forward as may Dick Krouse at guard. The latter two are freshmen.

Order New Equipment For Turner Hall Gym

In order to aid in the promotion of physical culture, the athletic department has ordered a complete physical building outfit from the Bar Bell Company.

Included in the outfit are a five-foot bar with two hundred ten pounds of weights, a set of adjustable dumb-bell handles, an iron boot for leg development, a wrist and forearm builder, and a head strap for shoulder and neck developing. The outfit will be placed in Turner Hall and will be under supervision of someone yet to be appointed.

Attend Koch Funeral

Four members of the faculty of St. Joseph's attended the funeral Mass of the Rev. Robert Koch's father, in Cleveland's St. Anne Church, Saturday morning, Jan. 16. Those attending were the Revs. Thomas Grotenrath, C.P.P.S., Cletus Kern, C.P.P.S., Cyril Knue, C.P.P.S., and Clarence Schuerman, C.P.P.S.

Chief Of Chaplains Offers Sympathy For Father Falter

From Magr. William R. Arnold, Brigadier General and Chief of Chaplains, United States Army, came this communication of sympathy upon the death of the Rev. Clement Falter, C.P.P.S.

Dear Father:

I am tardy in expressing to you and St. Joseph's my tribute to the heroism of Father Falter. While we knew that some of our chaplains were casualties on the African front, we did not know their names until we saw them in the newspapers from Navy sources of information.

Father Falter and a number of his fellow chaplains were here in my office in October. They were then on their way to the front. After the introductions, Father Falter said, "I'm from St. Joseph's." Immediately we felt at home with each other and expressed our happiness over the bond between us.

I rejoice to think that St. Joseph's was represented in that task force which was destined to cover itself with glory. As the chaplains left, Father Falter lingered behind and asked for my blessing. I never forgot his sincerity, earnestness and simple piety—A noble, worthy son of St. Joseph's. May his soul rest in peace and may he obtain for those of us left behind the faith and courage to follow his example.

Devotedly yours,
Wm. R. Arnold
Chief of Chaplains

Father Falter, a First Lieutenant in the Chaplain Corps and a former professor of languages here, was killed on the North African front.

Magr Arnold is also an alumnus of St. Joseph's, 1896-1902.

organization and cooperation; and better supervision. However, the bowling league is fairly well organized."

"The intra-mural system is one of the most pitiful plights ever seen. It is supposed to be taking the place of physical training in hardening the students in preparation for the services. If this is so, 'God help the army'." This is Tom Cooney's (sophomore from Woodstock, Ill.) impression.

For its last interview STUFF went to John Feicht, senior from Canton, Ohio. Here are Johnny's words: "The bowling league is tops, thanks to Father Roof and the excellent cooperation from the members. As for basketball, the setup is not any too good. There could be improvement in both organization and cooperation. Personally, my sympathy goes out to Louie Yugovich for the lack of cooperation he is receiving in his classes. I might add that one game of basketball or bowling a week will not condition one for the armed services."

Infirmarian In Bed

During the past week, the Revs. Francis Hehn and Alfred Zanolar have been ill in the Infirmary. Freshman Tom Bestudik, Springfield, Ill., was also admitted and treated.

Ill also during the week, and missing from his post, was the infirmarian, Mr. Peter Heimes. Taking his place at the Infirmary were Edward Franke and Marcel Pelletier.

Exams Coming Up

All this week students busied themselves in their books laying in a last-minute store of knowledge and brushing the dust off old facts. Semester exams—bugaboo of students everywhere—were on the horizon, scheduled to begin Monday morning, Jan. 25.

Even though St. Joseph's is now accelerating its courses in accordance with the wishes of the government, the examinations will be the same as in other years: Two hours long, and comprehensive.

A schedule of the exams will be posted on the various bulletin boards soon according to the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dean of Studies.

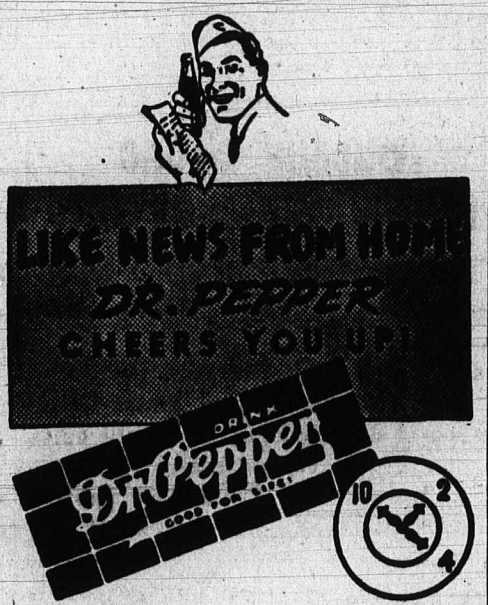

Measure Staff Meets With Poetry Society

Members of the staff of Measure and of the Poetry Society met together in special session last Thursday night, Jan. 14, to have their pictures taken for the yearbook, Phase.

While the meetings were not scheduled on the calendar, members of both organizations discussed, in formally, some of the activities which the two groups will sponsor next semester.

The staff of Measure has already begun to plan the next edition of that magazine. The editors hope to have it off the press early in March.

Mary Hutchinson Will Interpret Part Of Shakespeare

Appearing on the St. Joe stage in the sixth of the 1942-43 theatre entertainment series will be Mary Hutchinson, Shakespearean actress; she will demonstrate her ability by giving sketches of some of Shakespeare's greatest female characters. The program will be given in the College Theatre, February 6.

Included in her repertoire of Shakespeare's famous heroines are Portia, from "The Merchant of Venice," Ophelia, from "Hamlet," Juliet, from "Romeo and Juliet," Lady Macbeth, from "Macbeth" and several others.

Miss Hutchinson is a graduate of the New York School of the Theatre and the John Murray Anderson-Robert Milton School.

Newman Club Gives His Father's Son

His Father's Son, a three act comedy by Gladys Bridgman, was presented by the Academy Newman club last night in the College Theatre. The play was directed by the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S.

The characterization of Douglas Doyle was very ably fulfilled by Gerald Leahy. The portrayal of the father was well executed by James Dobe. Among the supporting cast, two deserve credit for their fine work; namely, Aubrey Serewicz and Edmund Joseph.

"Ladies of Song" Win Approval Of Enthusiastic Student Group

By Vince Giese

In the form of a pleasant surprise package came five charming young ladies to the College Theatre last Saturday evening, Jan. 16, to delight a very enthusiastic student audience with song, music, and dramatic presentation.

The pleasant surprise package was the "Ladies of Song." It was a surprise, for only one of the group, Helen Jones the narrator, originally billed to appear here, actually came. It was pleasant, for the audience enjoyed them so much that it didn't want them to leave.

Give Varied Program

Besides offering classical, popular, and patriotic selections in harmony, the "Ladies of Song" proved themselves artists in solo work. Especially enjoyed were the songs "Danny Boy," as sung by Roberta Holmer, promising young contralto of the Chicago Opera Company, and "Kerry Dance," by Hellyn Fix, soprano.

Lovely Betsy Reed, piano accompanist of the group, delighted theatre-goers with Liszt's famous

"Concert Etude" and other piano novelties.

Give Several Impersonations

A feature of the program was the impersonations given by Kathryn Westfall, dramatic artist of many radio serials and the one responsible for the famed expression, "Mommy, can I have a Salerno butter cookie?"

The group which appeared at St. Joseph's consisted of Helen Jones, Roberta Holmer, Hellyn Fix, Betsy Reed, and Kathryn Westfall.

The program given by the ensemble follows: "Dream of Love," "Chit Chat," "Concert Etude," "Habanero" from Carmen, "No, No Nannette," (medley), "Kerry Dance," "Amapola," Gay Nineties (medley), "Malagreno," "Little White Donkey," "Strike Up The Band," "We Saw The Sea," "Danny Boy," World War II (medley), "My Hero," "Something About A Soldier," "When The Lights Go On Again."
